

LEGAL & PRIVACY

The Internet site (site) and its contents are the property of Cembre S.p.A. (the Company).

Its purpose is to publish information and news on the Company's business activity, including the supply of services and products offered. Unless specified otherwise, the content of the site is not to be interpreted as an indication of the conditions of sale; any prices, terms and conditions shown do not constitute a binding offer to the public and may be subject to changes without any obligation to give notice. All rights relating to the documentation, images, characters, graphics, software and all other contents of the site, including codes and script formats, are protected by the regulations in force and are exclusively available, in law, to the Company: consequently, their reproduction is forbidden to third parties, as is any other type of use not expressly authorised, prior to use and in writing by the Company.

The rights relating to the distinguishing brand marks present on the site are held by their respective owners, who are also the exclusive beneficiaries of the goodwill derived from the use of these marks. Use of the site is purely personal and professional, not commercial. It is therefore forbidden to copy, modify, load, download, transmit, publish or distribute to third parties, any contents of the site or any distinguishing brand marks present on it, for commercial purposes. For purely professional or personal (but not commercial) purposes, the user is allowed to download texts or other contents of the site and to distribute them, provided that the source of same is explicitly and clearly indicated on any resulting documentation containing such downloads, be that in electronic or printed format.

Cembre S.p.A. will make every effort to ensure that the information provided on the site is accurate, complete and current; however the site, including without limitation, the contents, information and news available in it, is provided "as is" with no guarantee, either explicit or implicit, of completeness, accuracy, currency or reliability.

Consequently, in no case will the Company accept responsibility for damage or loss resulting from reliance placed by the user on material contained in the site. Cembre S.p.A. is in no way responsible and therefore supplies no guarantee regarding data, information, references to companies and any other inaccuracies of a technical or other nature that may be contained in the site.

In relation to the above, Cembre S.p.A. declines all responsibility for direct or indirect damage or loss, of whatever nature it may be or in whatever form it may occur, resulting from the use of this site and of the information, news and any other material contained therein.

Cembre S.p.A. reserves the right, at its own discretion and without giving notice, to:

- modify these conditions of use
- check and eliminate material contained in the site
- suspend the availability of the site at any time

Cembre S.p.A. declines all responsibility for any damage or loss resulting from delay, inaccuracy of or failure to find information, restrictions to or cessation of access, difficulties or problems of any type, errors, unauthorised use during access to the site or in connection with other forms of interaction with the site. All risks relating to the use and exploration of the site are assumed by the user. Cembre S.p.A. declines all responsibility in relation to any damage or loss resulting to computer equipment or Internet service used to access, explore or download material contained in the site.

On accessing the site, the user agrees to subject all issues relating to its use to Italian law and to the Court of Brescia.

On accessing the site and using the tools available in it, the user implicitly accepts the terms and conditions contained herein.

Investor Relations Disclaimer

The contents of the Investor Relations section of the Cembre S.p.A. site are the property of the Company and may be recorded on any medium, reproduced and used without any prior authorisation, solely for personal use.

All data, opinions, documents and other material (meetings calendar, calendar of the Board of Directors, press releases, presentations, etc.) contained in the Investor Relations section of the site are provided with the sole aim of providing information about the business of Cembre S.p.A. and, in some cases, to comply with the obligation to publish stipulated by the temporary regulations in force and are not intended in any way to constitute requests for public savings or to promote any form of investment or commerce; nor to promote or place financial instruments, investment services or banking, financial products or services.

Use of any data or information, provided by the Investor Relations section of the site, as the basis for personal investment activity is entirely at the risk of the user. Before undertaking any such activity on the basis of the information obtained, directly or indirectly, from the Investor Relations section of the site, it is most appropriate to refer to a bank or other authorised financial intermediary, in order to check the suitability of the activity to personal requirements and economic/financial/tax situations.

Information contained in the Investor Relations section of the site is provided by sources within Cembre S.p.A. which has the power to modify, at any time and at its own discretion, the contents, function and operating methods of Investor Relations, without prior notice, within the limits required by the regulations in force.

Cembre S.p.A. will ensure that information contained in the Investor Relations section of the site meets the requirements for reliability, correctness, accuracy and currency, to the greatest possible extent. Cembre S.p.A. is relieved of all responsibility for any errors or inaccuracies in the content of this information resulting from causes that cannot be attributed to it.

Furthermore Cembre S.p.A. is not responsible for damage or loss deriving from any interruption, suspension, delay or anomaly in the provision of the Investor Relations section of the site due to malfunction of the electrical power supply, the telephone network, the Internet service or any other cause not within the control of Cembre S.p.A.

For further information or clarification users may contact the names provided in "Contacts" within the Investor Relations section of the site.
